

ROOSEVELT WINS IN INDIANA; TAFT MACHINE BROKEN

Primary Results Indicate
Colonel Will Get Twenty-two Delegates.

The politicians today as easily the most important incident of the campaign. It proves that in this traditionally doubtful State, a barometer of Presidential results, the Republican voters want Roosevelt, not Taft. Besides that, it will have a tremendous weight with voters in adjoining States. Conditions in Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, and Kentucky are very closely parallel to those in Indiana. The loss of Indiana to Roosevelt was today regarded in political circles as a strong indication of what would happen in Ohio and Illinois.

As to Michigan, the situation there is altogether to the liking of the Roosevelt forces. The two county conventions that have acted have instructed for Roosevelt. The demands for Roosevelt to speak in the State, on his trip this week, are coming from all counties. It has been arranged that he will speak in Lawton, Kalamazoo, Jackson, and Detroit on Saturday next. These towns are all in the dense, fertile southern industrial region, and immense meetings are promised.

Taft Backers Surprised.

But to go back to the Indiana result. The Taft people had no suspicion of what was going to happen to them. They counted Indiana as solid for them. Today they are frightened, not only over the loss of the State, but almost as much over the lesson it has driven home, of the danger of carrying their machine methods too far. The voters in Indiana might have been kept in a condition of innocent unconsciousness, if it had not been for the excesses of the Taft forces. The old machine over-played its hand, and was smashed as a result. Now the Taft people are worried about a like condition arising in Pennsylvania.

The chairman of the Roosevelt committee said today, after the results from his telegrams received from all parts of the State, that Indiana had gone for Roosevelt. "We have carried nine districts certainly of the thirteen. Even Harry New has admitted that the State is lost, and that eight, possibly nine districts are for Roosevelt. Our advice is that we may get ten districts on the full count. The Taft machine there concede twenty and probably twenty-two delegates to us. The swing of the thing, the really popular character, is indicated by a lot of telegrams about results in particular counties. Here's one. Look at it."

Machine Didn't Work.

It was an announcement of the vote in Floyd county: Roosevelt, 50; Taft, 48.

"They have been pouring money into Indiana," went on Mr. Dixon, "and they had all the machinery, the office-holders, and the interests. They didn't concede us a single district. The result simply carries out our theory that the voters are overwhelmingly for Roosevelt."

In every Republican or possibly Republican State North, in Oklahoma and Missouri, Indiana, North Dakota, and two Michigan districts we have this result to date:

For Roosevelt..... 46

For La Follette..... 8

Uninstructed..... 6

For La Follette..... 6

For Roosevelt when the real fight comes, we have 56 for Roosevelt, 8 for Taft, and 5 uninstructed and doubtful.

Mississippi in Fold.

Indiana was not the only State that Roosevelt carried yesterday. In the intense surprise of the Taft machine, Mississippi also slipped quietly and unobtrusively into the Roosevelt list, a mysterious stranger from the Solid South. It happened because a lot of the old leaders there, as in other States in the South, have been getting wind of the fact that Taft if nominated cannot be elected, and are looking for a winner. The Mississippi county conventions were held Saturday, and telegrams from Jackson and other points today say that Roosevelt swept the State.

The majority for him is overwhelming. It is even doubted if there will be any contest, so decisive is the outcome. In any case, a contest would avail the Taft people nothing, because, in order to defeat the Roosevelt delegation from Louisiana, they would have to establish precedents that would unseat Taft delegates in other Southern States. Maine once—

Well bent.

For Governor Kent—

Tippecanoe and Tyler, too—

Well, it is now lined up to do as much for Roosevelt, according to The Times' special dispatches from Pine Bluff today, following the Roosevelt meeting at Portland last night, Chairman Dixon, of the Roosevelt committee, received the same advice today. The Portland meeting was more like an old-fashioned revival than a political gathering. The State has been quickly but effectively organized for Roosevelt by the leaders who want to get it back into the Republican column, and are assured that it will go Democratic again if Taft is nominated. The sentiment that is doing so much business in all the States that went Democratic in 1910, Colorado injected the only cry into the Roosevelt movement today. The Denver city primaries were held yesterday. Reports are very meager, but with the Guggenheim-smoking-street car-city hall machinery all at work desperately for Taft, indications are that he carried the State. Of delegates selected in Colorado before the Denver meetings, Roosevelt had 146 to Taft's 90. But the trend was not long enough to prevent Taft delegates from being elected in other districts. The Roosevelt delegation from Denver, Indiana, and other districts, will be elected at large, while the district delegates will be divided.

West Virginia's Stand.

West Virginia has started a land slide toward Roosevelt, according to reports from the primaries thus far held. Roane county went for Roosevelt by a big majority, five to seven districts instructing for Roosevelt. Other two voting down resolutions of instruction for Taft. Like results and general conditions are reported in all parts of the State.

Pennsylvania may get the honor of deciding the Presidential nomination. The swing toward Roosevelt is so strong that the managers on the ground in the State insist that they will have two-thirds of the delegates for Roosevelt. The primaries will be held April 1, and nominations of candidates, delegates, etc., have been closed, with full tickets of delegates for both Roosevelt and Taft. If the confident predictions now being made are correct, the Roosevelt delegates will break the back of the Taft movement by instructing his delegates-at-large for Roosevelt, and giving him about fifty of the seventy-eight delegates from the entire State.

Claims were made at the Taft bureau today that the President would have eight of the thirteen districts. "We have wired to Indiana for the detailed vote. Our first advice is to the effect that the Third district is for Taft by a vote of 47 to 45—a rather close vote—and that the vote in the Fifth and Tenth districts will be 67 to 29, and 59 to 39, respectively, in favor of the President."

The Taft bureau also made the claim today that every one of the Indiana districts went for the President in the primaries yesterday, and that this insures the State of Indiana for Taft. In Michigan, the Taft bureau claims a vote of 48 to 19 in the State convention.

Roosevelt Indorsed in Nebraska Convention

PAPILLON, Neb., March 24.—Six Roosevelt delegates and one Taft man were chosen at the county convention held here, which elected delegates to the Nebraska State convention. The convention passed resolutions in which "the policies of Theodore Roosevelt" were strongly indorsed.

The action of the convention is significant only as showing the trend of sentiment, as the Nebraska delegation is instructed in a preferential Presidential primary, while the State convention simply constructs the platform for the State candidates.

Drops Dead as He Boasts of Appetite

H. Hardan, colored, a Pullman car porter of Jersey City, N. J., was laughing and boasting about what a good appetite he had in the Pullman building, Sixth and T streets northeast, shortly after 6 o'clock this morning, when he suddenly gasped and fell to the floor.

ROOSEVELT'S SPEECH, PROGRESSIVES SAY, WINS DELEGATION

Colonel's Supporters Now Claim Maine's National

PORTLAND, Me., March 24.—Colonel Roosevelt's speech here last night is regarded by the State's leading progressives as having won for him Maine's delegation beyond shadow of doubt. The enthusiasm shown was unprecedented. His audience was deeply impressed by his statement of the business situation, and listened to his arguments on the rights of the people to rule with the keenest interest.

It was noticeable that when the former President took direct issue with President Taft, and quoted Abraham Lincoln to prove that the former's theory of government meant rule by "a combination of political and financial privilege," he had the support of his audience. He struck a keynote in declaring that "we progressives are not to be swayed from our purpose, which is to secure for the use of the plain people the things which of right are theirs." The intense interest displayed by his thousands of hearers in this city was duplicated from the time he left Boston.

What has pleased the progressive leaders throughout Maine was the genuineness of his reception and the evident accord with his views. They are jubilant over the effect produced by his visit, and confidently predict his success at the State convention, at Bangor. One unflinching indication of the impression the colored made is shown by the last session of the Taft workers to get the President to make a hasty trip to Maine before the convention.

COL. ROOSEVELT HAS CONTROL IN INDIANA

Tuesday's Convention Will Declare for Him, Leaders Say.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 24.—Roosevelt supporters apparently have obtained control of the Indiana State convention, which will meet here on Tuesday.

Indications are that Roosevelt will get twenty of the thirty delegates to be chosen, including the four delegates-at-large. This number may be increased to twenty-two.

The second day of the county contests resulted in an overturn which amazed the supporters of President Taft. After Friday's contests, friends of the President said he would get the support of the majority of the districts. Today, however, it is apparent Roosevelt won in the Second, Third, Fourth, Eleventh, Twelfth, and Thirteenth districts. He also probably will win the Fifth and Eighth.

Some of the political leaders increase this figure and predict Roosevelt a winner in nine of the thirteen districts, which, with the control of the State convention, will give him twenty-two delegates.

The First and Seventh districts have instructed their delegates for Taft and the Tenth probably will do so. Taft is leading in the Sixth and Ninth.

Roosevelt Wins in Michigan Convention

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., March 24.—The Chippewa county Republican convention selected nine delegates to the State convention, all instructed to vote for Roosevelt. Preferential Presidential primaries were upheld in the resolutions.
